

Doo-Bop Jazz Bar

Jazz-loving cats and kittens, get excited, for Edward Street will soon be home to Doo-Bop Jazz Bar. Due to open in June this year, the live-music venue will be spread over two storeys and dedicated to all things jazz. The ground level will be open for early-morning coffee through to lunch and dinner, with its Art Deco space home to a grand piano, so diners can take in the smooth sounds of jazz over the likes of tapas, New Orleans-style po'boys, pastas, pizza and more. Downstairs in the subterranean basement you'll find the live-jazz venue, inspired by one of the world's oldest jazz clubs, Village Vanguard in New York City. A fully refurbished 1955 Steinway Model B grand piano imported from New York will grace the large stage, with the venue set to play host to local, interstate and international jazz acts most (if not all) evenings.
